Press Release

Koop acquires Buitenkamp

Frankfurt am Main, March 2021. Koop Germany GmbH, a portfolio company of Borromin Capital Fund IV, has announced the acquisition of Buitenkamp B.V. (Buitenkamp) on 10 March 2021, a Dutch service provider of temporary dewatering pump and pipe installations.

Koop Group (Koop) was acquired by Borromin Capital Fund IV in August 2019 with a view to expanding its branch network and service offering. In 2020, two new branches were opened in the south and north-east of Germany (Neustadt a.d. Weinstraße and Berlin). The acquisition of Buitenkamp marks another important step in Koop's strategic growth and expansion plan.

Marco Bernecker, Managing Partner of Borromin: "The acquisition of Buitenkamp broadens the business activities both in terms of product range and customer base and gives Koop access to a well invested, extensive asset base of more than a hundred dewatering pumps.

Ronny Konink, CEO of Koop: "We have known the company and its current owner, Bertus Rossing, for a long time. After many years of successful cooperation we are particularly pleased to integrate Buitenkamp into Koop."

KOOP

Koop, founded in 1969, is a leading service provider of dewatering and groundwater purification solutions in Europe, also offering a comprehensive range of associated industrial services including ground stabilisation products (crane and excavator mats) With its own branch network, the company focuses on regional infrastructure projects in Germany and the Netherlands and selectively undertakes larger projects across Europe. With a total headcount of 160 employees at eight locations (six in Germany and two in the Netherlands) and due to its comprehensive market experience in conjunction with its excellent products, services and process know-how, Koop is considered to be a technical market leader for high quality and customised dewatering services in Europe for a diversified and international customer base.
